

Come along and see the district team!

Do you have any (money) worries, or would you like to discuss any other personal issues?

The district team is available to all residents in need of a little help or support.

The district community workers know a great deal about care and well-being and they are very familiar with your district.

Come along to the consultation if you:

- have money worries
- feel alone
- have questions about housing
- have family or relationship problems
- want to meet other people
- want to help others through volunteering
